Riding together to end cancer

is the passion behind The Ride For Roswell, which gathers thousands of cyclers to raise the necessary funds to build innovative cancer research programs, as well as to provide services that enhance the quality of a patient's life.

From April 2017 to March 2018, donations allowed Roswell Park to make a greater impact in patient treatment and care.

Meet Michael

In fall 2017, Michael noticed a weird pain in his leg that just got worse and worse. Two months later he was diagnosed with Ewing's sarcoma. He faced a difficult battle, but after chemotherapy and radiation at Roswell Park, Michael is cancer-free!

"You can't take every day for granted. I could have not been here, so live life to the fullest."

- Michael, Ewing's sarcoma survivor
